New Orleans

A city has character in proportion to interest lavished upon it by its people. Here in New Orleans one sees evidence everywhere of how much these generations have loved New Orleans. The ante-bellum empire of sugar and slaves did not neglect to give something back to the city. New Orleans has more benefactors than any other city in America.

This is the home of John James Audubon the great naturalist and his volume "The Birds of America," is characterized by Cuvier as "the most magnificent monument that art has yet raised to ornithology." Audubon the son of a Commander in the French Navy was born at the village of Mandeville near New Orleans in 1780. One of the finest parks in America has been dedicated to him here in New Orleans.

Statues, monuments and parks dot the city—magnificent memorials to the great philanthropists, those who loved their city and knew by their benefactions it would always be great. One of the best known stories often told here is that of John McDonough who built the school systems of New Orleans and made the schools in Baltimore the best in the world. He built 35 schools in New Orleans and gave them to the city. Twelve of the schools are still in use. A marble statue to McDonough was erected in Lafayette Square on St. Charles Street. Every May Day the school children of New Orleans make a pilgrimage to the statue and bank it with flowers.

As I spent many happy hours looking over this great city I wondered how the memory of our own rich here in Milam county and Texas will fare at the hands of posterity. John McDonough, an Irishman, was born in 1779 in Baltimore, Maryland. He became a merchant prince in the first half of the 19th Century. Disappointed in a love affair he became a recluse and a miser. He moved outside the city and his home was McDonoughville where he died in 1850. Until 2 days before his death this stubborn man worked 18 hours a day but gave his slaves a half holiday every Saturday.

McDonough loved and was loved by Elizabeth Johnson, a young Creole society belle. They hoped to be married but her family objected and she became a nun and he remained a bachelor until his death 40 years later. After 35 years Elizabeth Johnson became Mother Superior of the Convent and on New Year's Day following among the many who came to extend good wishes was old John McDonough, their first meeting since they had parted. After his death, among his effects were found a faded pair of dancing slippers that had been worn by Elizabeth Johnson at one of their famous New Orleans balls when she was a beautiful young girl and he a gay young gallant.

After his disappointment in love he became a recluse, and a very bitter one. He resented the austerity of Creole society and with bitter Irish tongue swore that he would get revenge by becoming the city's greatest benefactor so that his name would be on things to make the progress of the city. This he did and so John McDonough, the Irishman who was not good enough for Elizabeth Johnson, but who was good enough to build 35 schools, knew how to use his great wealth created by sugar and slaves. To-morrow, good eating in New Orleans.

New Orleans

I am an epicurian of sorts and it is downright delightful to get out of the blue-plate lunch country for a few days. I recall that the late Count Kaiserling, the German author, writing on Culture in America, said Virginia possessed it to a marked degree because the people there know how to cook. Where people do not know the art of cooking there is no civilization. He confessed he found a neucleus of culture in Dallas, Texas on account of the proximity of that city to Old Mexico.

New Orleans is the mecca for the Gourmet. Perhaps no place on earth is more famous for foods than this old city. Five restaurants top the list of celebrated resorts. They are Galotior's, Antoine's, Anauds, La Louasine and the Vaux Carree. The

GUARDSMEN HERE GET $850 IN DRILL CHECKS

The officers and enlisted men of Battery C, 239th Field Artillery Battalion received their National Guard pay during the drill period last Tuesday evening, and there was another increase noted in the unit's payroll. Captain Rudolph Michalka said approximately $850 in checks was distributed.

He pointed out that this amount was for drill pay alone, and did not include several hundred dollars more which the battery has paid out here in recent weeks.

Other developments during the drill period included an inspection in ranks to choose the Guardsman making the neatest appearance. Raymond Kurtz was named this week's winner.

Capt. Michalka said plans are being made for Battery C to take part in Army Day celebrations on April 7th with an open house and display of unit equipment at the armory. A detailed announcement will be made as soon as plans have been completed.

A mild cold front was due to reach the Cameron area Wednesday night. Not much change will result it was thought.

Clearing skies and receding wind in Panhandle brought relief from a 24 hour sand storm. The dust bowl blown clean sent a pall of brown dirt over nearly all Texas.

Easter Seal Sale For Crippled Children Under Way In County

The campaign of Easter Seal Sale for crippled children got well underway in Milam County the past week, when approximately 1000 letters containing Easter Seals were mailed by the Milam County Crippled children Society to residents of the county.

These letters remind us that the happiness and welfare of some little crippled boy or girl lies in the hands of those who are better prepared for life. This child needs help; he may need braces, it may be a crutch or it may be the patient unending hours of Physiotherapist. What crippled children want and what they get through the sale of these Easter Seals is a chance in life. A chance for proper medical care and equipment, healthful recreation, special vocational training, and a chance to overcome their handicap, to lead useful, happy lives.

Giving through the purchase of Easter Seals is your chance to give them a chance.

"Every Easter Seal or Lily you buy helps a crippled child".

PRESIDENT EXPECTED TO VETO MEASURE

WASHINGTON, March 24 — The house sent President Truman a $4,800,000,000 tax reduction bill today, pounding home its approval by a 289 to 66 roll call vote.

The margin was 51 votes greater than two-thirds majority which would be required to over-ride a veto, provided there is no change of sentiment.

And President Truman is expected to veto the tax cut promptly. His supporters take the stand that instead of reducing taxes, congress should maintain the current high flow of revenue to rebuild the nation's military strength in the global drive to stop communism.

But the house vote, coupled with the top heavy 78 to 11 approval given by the senate Monday, was viewed by Democrats as well as Republicans as assuring that the tax cut will become law.

"There is not a chance in the world that congress will support a presidential veto," one highly placed Democratic lawmaker said.

The bill would:

1. Grant relief to all the 52,000,000 taxpayers, ranging from 100 per cent in the lowest income bracket to 5 per cent in the higher brackets. It removes 7,400,000 low-income persons from the tax rolls completely.

2. Effective May 1, reduce all tax withholdings from pay envelopes and salary checks. The tax reduction is retroactive to January 1. So next year the taxpayers would get refunds on overpayments from January 1 to May 1.

House action came in the face of an impassioned statement by Democratic Leader Rayburn, of Texas, that "danger lurks in this world." He asked: "In this hour of disorder, had we not better be in a position to bring about those instruments of war that may be needed to defend our shores?"

But in voting 84 Democrats deserted the administration to join 205 Republicans in support of the measure. Opposing were 64 Democrats and one Republican and the two American-Labor party members from New York.

RECRUITING DRIVE IS ANNOUNCED WEDNESDAY

The Army and Navy Airforces want 25,000 men at once.

This was disclosed in Washington late Wednesday while members of a Senate committee heard arguments over a draft law and compulsory military training.

If the draft law is reinstated all men who served in the late war will be exempt for the present and men from 19 to 25 will be taken.

The limited number of men requested for the air forces would leave no doubt that only the best qualified may be taken. In the last war millions of young men applied for the airforces but were never taken.

It is no secret that the government is seeking to induce all reserve corps officers to take up active duty again and a survey has been conducted. There were other developments over the changing international picture, notably proposal to turn the atom bomb back to military control.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stafford spent the past week end in Houston with Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Clark Jr., and went on the Azalia trail.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Denson, Mrs. Pope Sapp and Mrs. W. G. Gillis spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. C. White in Bryan. Mrs. White is much improved after being ill for some time.

$50 FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Adolph Emil Pelzel on a plea of guilty was fined $50 by Judge Dan Tyson in county court for driving a car while drunk. The fine being imposed for first offenders is the lowest that the law allows.

Mr. and Mrs. William King and daughter of Ennis are spending a few days in Buckholts with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gresak and other friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kortis and children have arrived in Cameron where Mr. Kortis is with the Santa Fe Railway system. They come here from Kinney, but are former residents of Caldwell.

E. D. King, business man of Temple was in Cameron recently.

Mr. and Mrs. John Giesselbrecht of Gatesville recently visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Senkel.

RUSSIAN SUBS SEEN OFF U. S. SHORES

WASHINGTON, March 25— The U. S. high command called today for a draft of 19 to 26-year-olds in a $3-448,000,000 expansion of our fighting forces so that they can hit hard if war comes.

They named Russia as a possible enemy. Secretary of Defense Forrestal said peace prospects are good. But "as a strictly military matter," he declared, "we cannot permit the still-free nations of Europe to fall under Soviet domination."

Secretary of the Navy Sullivan said that "recently submarines not belonging to any nation west of the 'Iron Curtain' have been sighted off our shores."

Russia is the only such country with an ocean-going fleet.

A high-ranking navy official said later that there were three instances in which foreign submarines were reported sighted and these were all in the Pacific.

One was seen at night by a merchant vessel within 200 mile of San Francisco, he said, adding that the identification of the object as a submarine was not positive.

Another was seen by an American plane off the Aleutians 10 days ago, the navy man said, and the third by a merchant ship in the Johnston Palmyra group about 800 miles from Hawaii.

Other naval sources said there was no reason why submarines of a "friendly" power should not cruise the high seas so long as they did not come within the American three-mile limit.

Forrestal and Sullivan appeared with other military chiefs before the senate armed services committee.

Senator Gurney (R-SD), chairman of the committee, said proposed draft legislation called for eventual registration of men up to 45 although only younger men are being considered for actual draft calls.

He said there might be separate registrations of men 19 through 25, then men up to 31 years, next those up to 38, and finally men up to 45.

Forrestal and other defense chiefs asked a $49,500 increase in our regular armed forces—plus another 181,000 to run a universal military training program if congress approves UMT.

You can CASH IN ON SCRAP

STEEL MILLS NEED SCRAP METAL FROM YOUR FARM

Supplies of scrap for the steel furnaces are critically low. The furnaces thrive on a diet of about equal portions of pig iron and scrap. More scrap is urgently needed, if there is to be enough steel for making farm implements and countless other products. More than three million tons of steel scrap lie idle on America's farms, according to the latest estimates — scrap that only litters up the place, scrap that is wasted where it is. How much is there on your farm? How about the old car body, that rusted cultivator, those old plow bottoms, discarded tools? Every bit helps — and it is needed now.

IT'S HARVEST TIME FOR SCRAP

There's a bumper scrap crop to be harvested this spring — and there's money in it for you. Your scrap dealer will pay for everything usable. You can do three good turns in one scrap harvest:

1. You make some money on what you can't use.
2. You get your outdoor spring housecleaning done.
3. You help the steel mills turn out more steel for the implements and equipment you'd like to have on your farm.

Scrap means savings to you — if you'll collect it and sell it. On the first rainy day, when you can't plow or sow or cultivate, put on your oldest clothes and get that scrap together.

HERE'S WHAT TO DO

1. Pile up every bit of iron and steel scrap on your place.
2. Take a payload into town the next time you go. You'll make more money out of it that way.
3. If you can't drive it in, call your scrap dealer and ask him to pick it up.
4. If there is no scrap dealer near you, call your implement dealer. Ask him how to get your scrap started toward the steel furnaces.

this it is a matter of going ahead. A county cannot be lost economically, no matter what the increase in costs. Entire communities are isolated, farms are worth less, all because the county has not made any progress. It was expressly said that the responsibility will rest with the Commissioners Court. Full backing and full co-operation is at hand. First plans must be drawn for without plans and without a long range program little or nothing will result. The Commissioners Court must take the lead for the responsibility is theirs alone. If the people want relief they can get it. Court members will want to follow any reasonable program the people want. Speak up.

IN MEMORY OF THOMAS RUFUS COSBY

The recent passing of Thomas Rufus Cosby takes from us another of the "old pioneers", whose vacancy created through his death can never be filled in the hearts and minds of those who knew him. To know him was to love and respect him.

In the eighty-four years of his life, the greater portion of which he lived in Milam County, Texas, he acquired a great host of friends and associates who loved and respected him. His courage with which he faced and conquered the many problems of life was an inspiration to all with whom he came in contact. His love for his fellow man and his unshakeable devotion toward the "Church" and the "Lord work" are shining examples for others to follow along lifes path.

Although he has been called "Home" by the "Master" it is gratifying to we who mourn his passing, to know that he has left a living Memorial for generations to come, to the world, in his family, consisting of his widow, four sons and four daughters, followed by his children's sons and daughters, and lastly followed by the sons and daughters of his grandchildren, all of whom were privileged to know him as "Grandpa Cosby". His living contribution to the world are as follows:

Mrs. Thomas Rufus Cosby. Virgil Carter Cosby (eight sons) 2 grand children.

Mrs. Dave Gann (four sons, three daughters, and two gandchildren).

Mrs. Thomas H. Turner (Two daughters, two sons, five grandchildren).

Mrs. Joe Ford (Three daughters, and two grandchildren).

Miree Cosby (one son, and one daughter).

Mrs. Walter Ford.

J. C. Cosby (One son and one daughter).

T. R. Cosby (Five daughters).

It is a comfort to we who love him, in our realization that he earned the rest from lifes trials and tribulations which was his reward when Summons by the "Master". May his Soul rest in Peace, and his memory be an inspiration to his survivors throughout their lives.

By his grandson, VIRGIL A. TURNER

ROAD PLANS—

only hope of saving the farms and business interests of the county is to finance roads through bond issues with state and federal help.

Funds now available for farm to market roads are inadequate and financing is a problem that must be met. It was generally agreed that this county needs to co-ordinate its money through the unit system. Otherwise the effect is reduced because there is not enough when divided. Under the unit system a road is built where needed irrespective of precinct lines.

The meeting was an encouraging display of interest and as comment ran following the discussions it proved that business men and farmers are beginning to manifest their feelings over the collapse of rural road building.

Years ago Milam county was one of the progressive counties in Texas and voted over a million dollars in road bonds. In those days that was big money and results were good roads in every section of the county. Since the state has taken over the matter of liquidating the bonds a resignation has set it that the highway department would build roads in the future. This will not be done on a scale commensurate with the needs here.

Increased construction costs has made it a major problem when road building is now talked. Despite all

JOHNSON CALLS UPON U. S. TO WAKE UP

AUSTIN, March 25—It is time for preparedness and prayer to prevent World War III, Rep. Lyndon Johnson, (D-Tex) cautioned tonight in an address prepared for statewide radio delivery.

"Stalin is marching as Hitler marched—repeating chapter by chapter, verse by verse," Johnson warned. "Each day the iron curtain hides a larger portion of the world. If we continue to do nothing, what will happen? One day we'll wake up in a world in which the western hemisphere is a lonely island, and all the rest of mankind behind the iron curtain."

The senior Texas member of the house armed services committee, frequently mentioned as a possible candidate for the U. S. senate, noted that Russia today has four million men in her army, America 550 thousand. Russia is building six to 12 thousand planes a year, America 18 hundred. Russia is spending 20 billion dollars a year to make herself invincible, America just over 10.

"Talk over these figures with your family and take them to bed with you and pray over them," he said. "This is no time for hysteria, nor fright, nor politics. It's time to prepare to keep out of World War III."

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Farmer of Waco spent the week end here with Mrs. Farmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wardlaw.

Rosebud Has Date With Commission On Highway By-Pass

On Wednesday, March 31, the citizens of Rosebud have a date with the State Highway Commission for the purpose of asking the Commission and the State Engineer to not by-pass Rosebud with the new highway that is scheduled to be built from Rosebud to Burlington this year. The route, as surveyed, would go around Rosebud from the Ed Peschel corner and thence direct to Burlington, joining the present right-of-way of Highway 77 just east and south of the row of houses near the residence of Mrs. Witt of Burlington. Rosebud will ask the Commission to bring the highway through Rosebud on Fifth Street and will offer an 80-foot right-of-way through the city for the highway—Rosebud News.

Negro Gets One Year As Second Offender In Drunk Driving

Claude Benson, negro, must serve one year in Texas prison for driving a car while drunk. He was tried in District Court Monday.

It was the second offense for the negro. He was convicted in another Texas county for "driving while drunk."

The law is severe in such cases and jail sentences, or up to 5 years in prison may be imposed.

For first offense the penalties are also severe if a court will impose them. $50 is the smallest fine that can be assessed for drunk driving on first offense, the highest $1000

H. H. COFFIELD IS HOST AT DIMMITT CO. RANCH

By SHELBY NEWMAN

The senior Scouts of ten Central Texas, towns including Rockdale were invited by H. H. Coffield to go on a "cat hunt" on his Diamond H. Ranch in Dimmitt county, near the small town of Catarina last weekend. Local boys attending were: Doyle Urban, George Haley, Martin Talbott, Henry Hall, Ralph Leech, Lee Garcia, Nicholas Garza, Shelby Newman, Glen Phillips, and S. C. Bland.

Mr. Coffield's ranch is situated twenty miles from Catarina in a terrain that is thick with mesquite, chapparal, deer weed, cactus, and some grass. The country is thickly inhabited with wildlife, such as: deer, lions, javelinas, coyotes and other meager animals, such as rattle snakes.

Hunts were planned and supervised by Mr. Bingaman, the trapper, and two game wardens who furnished the dogs. On the bobcat hunts, the wardens located a fresh trail and set the dogs loose. Everyone listened to the music of barking hounds until the cat was treed. The cat usually gets in a thicket or a low brush, but this time he was surrounded by seven tired, eager, slobbering hounds before he had time to make a bush. The dogs, being experienced, circled around the cat at a safe distance and darted in to bite at him at an opportune time; but he was rewarded generally with a stinging slap from his sharp claw. Finally, after the cat was worn down from being bitten, slapped and maneuvered around, a dog got a death grip and that is all "she wrote."

Within one hundred yards of where the cat was killed, three rattle snakes were killed. One of which was over six feet long and had seventeen rattlers. The other two were small ones about five feet in length.

Eleven bobcats, two coyotes, and about twenty rattle snakes were killed by members of the party during the four days.

Treasured moments of Texas History

In 1821 the destiny of Texas pivoted on the decision of a single man, Moses Austin of Missouri. Falling upon hard times, he came to Texas seeking permission to establish an American colony, which he lived only long enough to receive. Under the leadership of his capable son, Stephen F. Austin, the original colony of 300 families soon grew to 5,000, who lived and prospered on the banks of the Brazos in what is now Austin County. These were Texas' first families. From the Austins our State Capital was named.

From that treasured moment in Texas history has grown a great State in which the good things of life are enjoyed by millions. Three generations, for instance, have enjoyed the fine quality of Texas' Own PEARL Beer. In those treasured moments of relaxation it has become traditional to say, "Bottle of PEARL, please!"

Solar Window Home

In this house with its solar windows, the beauties of nature come right inside through the wide expanse of glass. Solar houses are extremely pleasant both inside and out. You will love their airy brightness and spaciousness. Small homes never had these qualities in the past. With proper planning, the exterior "sun-visor" is inconspicuously integrated in the design. This compact plan has excellent circulation. It comprises 1106 square feet, excluding garage.

Dwelling shown above is a photograph of a scale model of a "cut-out" home which can be obtained from House Beautiful Magazine for $2.00. The model is easily assembled, and gives the prospective home builder an actual model of the home he plans to build, complete with "cut-out" furniture. By studying the scale model, the prospective builder is enabled to determine what changes he deems necessary before the house is actually built, thereby saving needless expense.

atmosphere is conducive. Just plain coffee and sweet cakes at the old French Market somehow transcend anything the cafe duds here in Texas can dish out. Coffee here is excellent. They not only buy the best, they know what to do with it. Chicory is used widely here although they have tourist coffee for the benefit of those who just don't know any better. Chicory is a common plant in Asia, Europe and America, its roots being used widely as a mixture for the coffee bean. Coffee here is made strong and flavored with chicory. It is poured into a cup half filled with boiled whole milk and is perhaps the best coffee on earth.

One evening at Antoine's after a Pompanon Papillote I confided the frocked waiter I would do a column for the edification of the boat and trap boys along Little River on just what happens to a cat fish after he leaves Jackson Square. What with Old Lead Pencil himself and a company of Petrillio's musicians, I sounded off, you have Papillote. Renaud became livid as though he had been struck with the pungency of a cloak room joke off the Senate Chamber. The two dollar tip softened him up some.

Since French is the universal language here all menus are in French. The cuisine at Antoine's is an epicurean anthology for here many famous dishes have originated. This old restaurant was established in 1840 and its guest list is a world whose who. If you are a bit disappointed at first you are soon revived by the food and the service. The restaurant is as commonplace in appearance as anything antiquated. There is no music, no fanfare or colorful spectacles to whet your fancies. It is to-day just as when established by Antoine Alciatore 108 years ago and if inclined to think of the old days across from you may be Old Andrew Jackson or Jean LaFitte the Pirate for both ate here. And then this may be the table at which Sarah Bernhardt sat and they say she was very fond of Escargots or French Snails and many the night she had ordered something from Antoine's served in her dressing room at the old French Opera House not far away. Jenny Lind, the Swedish Nightingale ate here and when Primo Canara the former heavyweight champion visited Antoine's it was found necessary to place bricks under the table legs to accommodate his great bulk. He had a light lunch consisting of a huge platter of Sapphetti Milanese, two whole roasted chickens and the whole washed down with a bottle of Chianti.

Antoine's Restaurant, still housed in the exquisitely ornated iron grill-work building off Jackson square, celebrated its first century of uninterrupted service to the gourmets of the world, in 1940, under three successive generations of the family. On the walls of the several dining rooms hang the autographs of more than 2000 celebrities who have dined at Antoine's. Besides the main dining room there are 15 others. As we came out guests were standing in line for more than a block to get in. One simply must take an hour or two to eat here. Old fashioned Welsbach gas mantles provide the only source of heat in the main dining room, even in the coldest of winters. The huge plate glass mirrors in the main dining room were formerly in Grand Ball room of the famous old St. Louis Hotel and were imported from France. Until a few years ago sand covered the floor in the main dining room and sawdust still covers the floor in the famous Mystery Room. The Chef, waiters and other employees have been with Antoine's for many years many of them having begun their careers there and ended it there after a lifetime of faithful service. Bus boys must serve an apprenticeship of 10 years before they are eligible to become waiters. The present head waiter has been with the restaurant for 40 years and his predecessor served 50 years. The menu, one of the most famous in the world has not been changed in 50 years. Your orders are taken without pencil or paper and these waiters seldom make an error. When you order Crepe Suzette for dessert the lights in the dining room are turned off while the waiter fires the brandy generally poured over the delectable. Some more to-morrow.

New Orleans

Many now world famous dishes originated at Antoine's. More people eat Rockefeller oysters than any other delicacy on this famous menu. This dish was originated by Jules Alciatore in 1899 and since that time more than one million orders have been served. Oysters are served on the shell in a tin plate on a base of sea salt. They were so named because of the richness of the sauce still a deep secret in the culinary repertoire of this famed restaurant. At the time the elder Rockefeller was the richest man in the world and so was the sauce.

Second in popularity is Pompano en Papillote and this dish was created in honor of a distinguished French Balloonist who was entertained at Antoine's the paper bag being fashioned to resemble the inflated gas bag of a balloon and from this original idea the cooking of fish in a paper bag was evolved. In this way the seductive flavors of fish is retained while cooking.

Most of the cooking is done here with coal on a French Range. This range replaced another recently and the old range was used for 40 years. The original Marble Mortar, hollowed out from a gigantic piece of stone is still in use since the founding of the restaurant and over a dozen pestles made of lignum Vitae, the hardest known wood, have been completely worn down in all these years, in this same mortar.

The private library at Antoine's has over 400 cook books, books on wine, and other related subjects, some of which are over 200 years old and one old tome dating back to 1659. This restaurant has one of the finest cellars in the country containing rare wines from many different countries and nationalities, the stock carried at all times numbering over 5000 bottles, the oldest dating back to 1884. The oldest brandy dates back to 1811. This restaurant does not have a bar or a cocktail lounge. Antoine's believes that foods and wines are inseparable and they will not serve wine to those who do not eat. If you are in a hurry do not go to this famous restaurant. When Antoine's was established there were no electric lights, no automobiles, no moving pictures, no radio, no airplanes, no telephones and no elevators.

The walls of the 15 dining rooms are lined with autographed menus. Six Presidents of the United States have eaten here and all the best known men of literature and stage have during the years found the menu here to their liking.

When the great Marshal Ferdinand Foch, general of the Allied Armies in World War I visited New Orleans during the course of an American tour the Knights of Columbus tendered him a ceremonial breakfast at Antoine's. A special dish "Huitres Foch" had been presented in his honor and he autographed the menu but when Jules Alciatore placed before him a bottle of fine Bordeaux formed his duties well and has established a good record in solving criminal cases. He has been both kind and fearless in the discharge of his duties and as the result of the experience he has had in the limited time he has held office, he is in better position to serve the people than heretofore and in making his announcement pledged the people that he would do everything possible to be fair and impartial and to do the things he believes to be right. In this way Mr. Black follows the traditionally best policy for a peace officer, free to act and ready to serve and responsible to the people as a whole.

Mr. Black was born and reared in Milam county and as a native is well conversant with the desires and expectations of the people and as their sheriff it has been a privilege and a pleasure to serve them.

Mr. Black came to the office of the sheriff several years ago as a deputy and later was elected sheriff and since that time he has measured up to the responsibilities of the office in a manner that has brought him wide recognition as a peace officer.

Mr. Black is very thankful for the co-operation he has had gives credit to the people for the measure of law enforcement and success that have characterized his service in this office. He asks that the people continue to give him their co-operation and in return he pledges that there will never be a time when he will fail them in the complete discharge of his duties.

He will greatly appreciate your vote and support in the coming Primary election on Saturday, July 24.
